“This has been my second project with iRiS and I’m pleased that once again, we have managed to deliver a very fast and contemporary app for room control and guest ‘infotainment’. iPads are the hub of the citizenM in-room tech story where functionality & design need to be balanced against security & manageability, so its great to receive such great feedback from the citizenM team. It looks like we have a winning product here...”

Feel Welcome

“The collaboration with iRiS Software Systems Ltd has enabled us to bring a new type of guest-facing technology to our guests. It’s a new marketing tool for our hotels, allowing us to provide valued added experiences to keep pace with growing expectations as well as introduce additional sources of revenue.

We are excited about our future with iRiS and in delivering future proof technologies to keep us ahead of the competition.”

“A key strength of iRiS is it’s centralised platform that manages content across all products. We appreciate the fact that after we commissioned an in-room tablet solution we were able to extend that application to add guest access through their own devices, enabling content to be easily shared across the two very different applications. In the future MOHG will want to add additional capabilities, some of which would be bespoke and some of which will be new features of iRiS’s product set, and we are confident in the knowledge that iRiS can deliver this quickly and efficiently with minimal cost using iRiS’s multi-application platform.”
